DETAILED ACTION

Current Status

1. Claims 65-93 are pending in the application.

Lack of Unity

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1. Claims 65-68 and 74, drawn to a diphosphine in racemic form or in chiral form and its preparation, classified in class 564, subclass 420+.

Group 2. Claims 69-73, drawn to a diphosphine in dioxide form, in racemic form or in chiral form and its preparation, classified in class 564, subclass 420+.

Group 3. Claims 75 and 76, drawn to a process for preparing the diphosphine, classified in class 564, subclass 420+.

Group 4. Claim 77 drawn to a process for preparing the diphosphine, classified in class 564, subclass 420+.

Group 5. Claim 78, drawn to a process for preparing the diphosphine, classified in class 564, subclass 420+.

Group 6. Claim 79, drawn to a process for preparing the diphosphine, classified in class 564, subclass 420+.

Group 7. Claims 80-90, drawn to a polymer and its preparation, classified in class 525, subclass 440+.

Group 8. Claims 91-93, drawn to a transition metal complex, classified in class 568, subclass 8+.

The inventions listed as Group 1 - Group 8 do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group 1 is drawn to a diphosphine in racemic form or in chiral form and its preparation while Group 2 is drawn to different diphosphine in dioxide form and its preparation. Groups 3-6 are drawn to different processes for making different diphosphine compounds while Group 7 is drawn to a polymer and its preparation and Group 8 is drawn to a transition metal complex. These eight groups of invention are different from each other. Therefore, there is no special technical feature for the compounds, the processes of making these compounds or the different fields of application of the compounds. Also there is no unity of invention.

There is no special technical feature, which unites the groups. But even if there were a special technical feature there must be unity of invention also. Under 37 CFR 1.475

(a) An international and a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in an application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

(b) An international or a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and a process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or
- (5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

The above groups 1-8 together do not meet the requirement of unity of invention as given above in (1) -(5).

A telephone call was made to Jean-Louis Seugnet on 1/22/07 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
